Open-Ended Responses

1. In what ways did your instructor make learning possible for you during the Summer I 2024 semester?

Comments
The structure of the course just made it really easy to follow even though we were covering a ton of material really fast.
Professor Phadke was always willing to answer questions and was very thorough with his lectures, he made sure that the class had a strong understanding of each concept before moving to the next.
Clear explanation of concepts/topics.
Made office hours accessible
1. My instructor made learning possible by providing clear and structured course materials that were easy to follow. 2. Through engaging lectures and discussions, my instructor kept the course content relevant and interesting.
– efficiently used class time and made himself available to answer questions
– encouraged participation
– gave detailed explanations to questions during lecture
He created a very encouraging learning environment and was very helpful when we were confused.
Really patient, willing to explain after class, taught very clearly, and was a great instructor overall!
Engaging in review sessions
He held the recitation class and additional teaching time at the Econ Room. also he include the daily example in the explain.
Ishan was very helpful and always gave ample time and opportunities to express our opinions and answers during class. Even if our answers were wrong or right, he still went through the choices as to why there was a better answer. He also was available during the evenings and weekends, as well as after and before classes and recitations.
he was willing to answer questions thoroughly
Had plenty of opportunities to go over review questions not only during lessons but also during recitations, which helped bring together content from previous days into one bigger question.
He was very clear in his teachings and ensured that his lecture slides and notes were always readily accessible. It was also extremely helpful how he provided a lot of practice questions and answer keys throughout the session.
He did a very good job of explaining many different topics over a short period of time.
Professor Phadke was very careful in the way he described the concepts, and did so in a way that ensured that the students understood. He was also very understanding and responsive to communication, and was also accommodating for any time needed to understand the material.
Very clear explanations of the material and the format of the class.

2. Which aspects of this course should be kept for future times this course is taught?

Comments
I really liked the recitations, I felt that they really cemented in what we learned during class lectures.
I like the pace of course and the way the materials are structured, I think it made learning much easier for me personally.
Test corrections
Everything overall.
<ul style="list-style-type: none">– practice tests on canvas– office hours twice a week
The layout of assignments and overall structure of the class
The midterm assignments, the various extra practice problems
Practice problems and posted notes
The Trading was important for me and it should be kept.
I enjoy the recitations periods. They are extremely helpful and I always feel like I learn so much from those times. Additionally, it is when I felt the material stick the most.
all
Like the format of recitations and Problem Sets
<ul style="list-style-type: none">– Making all lecture notes readily accessible– Providing extra practice questions on the problem sets and providing practice exams– Allowing students to submit corrections on exams
I'm not sure how this course is structured by other professors, but I really enjoyed the methodology used in Professor Phadke's class. The group recitations were the most helpful aspect of the course.
The schedule it follows
